

Notice of Data Privacy Event

Date: February 1, 2026

Atlas Transfer & Storage Co. (“Atlas”) is issuing notice of a recent event that may impact the security of information related to certain individuals. Atlas is notifying individuals and providing information about the event, the response, and additional measures individuals can take to help protect their information.

What Happened? On July 15, 2025, Atlas identified suspicious activity within certain computer systems. In response, Atlas took steps to secure its network and launched an investigation into the nature and scope of the activity. Through the investigation, Atlas identified that certain files on the computer network were copied by an unauthorized party on July 15, 2025. After identifying the files that were involved, Atlas completed a review of the files to determine what information was contained in them, and to whom that information related.

What Information Was Involved? The information in the reviewed files varied by individual but collectively included some combination of the following types of information: name, Social Security number, tax identification number, driver’s license or state identification number, other government issued identification number, credit or debit card number, health insurance information, medical information, and/or financial account information.

What We Are Doing. The confidentiality, privacy, and security of information in Atlas’ care is among its highest priorities. In response to this event, Atlas promptly took steps to secure its network, conduct a thorough investigation, review the content of relevant data for sensitive information, and are notifying potentially affected individuals. While no safeguards can fully prevent all cybersecurity matters, Atlas is evaluating additional technical measures and processes to reduce the risk of an issue like this reoccurring. Additionally, Atlas is providing individuals with complimentary credit monitoring services and additional resources.

For More Information. If individuals have questions about this matter, Atlas has a dedicated assistance line with agents ready to answer questions. They can be contacted toll-free at 1-888-406-8903, Monday through Friday from 6:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Pacific Time, excluding major U.S. holidays.

What You Can Do. Atlas encourages individuals to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing their account statements and monitoring free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors. Additionally, under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Equifax—www.equifax.com and 1-888-298-0045

Experian—www.experian.com and 1-888-397-3742

TransUnion—www.transunion.com and 1-800-916-8800

Additional Information

Consumers may further educate themselves regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps they can take to protect their personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or their state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Ave NW, Washington, DC 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. Consumers can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Consumers have the right to file a police report if they ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, consumers will likely need to provide some proof that they have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and the relevant state Attorney General. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.
